10th European Meeting on Forensic Archaeology

25 - 26 August 2022
Dresden, Germany

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Archaeological Heritage Office of Saxony, the Federal Criminal Investigation Office of Germany and the ENFSI SoC Subgroup Forensic Archaeology, we are delighted to invite you to the 10th European Meeting on Forensic Archaeology (EMFA 2022), taking place from 25 – 26 August in Dresden, Germany.

This scientific meeting will bring together practitioners, researchers and educators, who are engaged in Forensic Archaeology and neighbouring fields. Current developments and requirements of Forensic Archaeology will be discussed and forensic case studies as well as actual research and development projects will be presented (in the fields of excavation/documentation methods, anthropology, GIS, geophysics, human taphonomy, soil forensics etc.). Furthermore, an update on current developments in the ENFSI Scene of Crime Group will be given.

First Call for Papers

You and your colleagues are kindly invited to give an oral presentation and/or present a poster during EMFA 2022, on the forensic topics mentioned above. You can submit your abstract(s) –of 300 words max. each– of oral and poster presentations as soon as possible and not later than Monday, 20 June 2022 (week 25). Please send your abstract(s) in .docx or .pdf format to: emfa2022@lfa.dresden.de (lower case l, as in "like", not a capital I as in Italy).

Information and Registration

A registration fee of €105,- will be requested to cover all conference costs, including coffee breaks and lunches. The conference dinner on Thursday evening is optional. To register, please fill out the form you received with this invitation and email it to the address mentioned above. Please tick the boxes of the workshops or tours you would like to attend (the tours will cost some additional money). Please also mention any food allergies or other special needs. Payment is only possible per bank transfer. To pay, see the instructions on the registration form.

For more information, check our website: <https://lsnq.de/emfa2022dresden>.

You can download all necessary information from this site, including the registration form. Any announcements concerning the meeting will be posted there as well.

We thank you in advance and hope to welcome you in Dresden, Germany!

Yours sincerely,

Patricia van der Burgt, Arch. Heritage Office (Patricia.vanderBurgt@lfa.sachsen.de),
Ralf Neumann, Federal Criminal Investigation Office (ralf.neumann@bka.bund.de),
